This Drug Dealer Could Rid Our Streets of Drugs Someday.

(photo of inmate)

Name: Terence C.

Age: 27

Occupation: drug dealer

Years in Prison: 5

Returned to Prison: 4 times

Hobbies: selling drugs to children, guns, gang violence

Job Skills: none

Future Plans: selling drugs to children, guns, gang violence

Terence could rid our streets of the drugs he sells.

But only if he completes a long-term, rigorous reintegration program while he's still in prison.

Think Better, Live Free – a cognitive–skills training program for juvenile and adult offenders developed by FREEDOM FROM WITHIN – will dramatically improve a criminal's thinking and behavior. The truth is Terence probably will be released from prison. 90% of all convicted criminals are released. But how he returns to society depends on you. Socializing Terence may be your best chance to rid our streets and playgrounds of drugs.
